train from Palmer was hustled to the wreck also.
The engine and baggage car of the regular No. 12, P. V. passenger that is due to leave Willimantic at 6.05 p. m. were dispatched to South Windham and Murphy was brought to this city and the ambulance conveyed him from the station to St. Joseph's hospital. Murphy said that he had been in five wrecks and that he had railroaded it for fifteen years. He came from northern New York down this way in April and has been on the Central Vermont road hereabouts ever since. Having a wife and child in New London.

Mr. F. E. Guild of Windham was called and made a hasty examination of the wreck. The engine and baggage car of the regular No. 12, P. V. passenger that is due to leave Willimantic at 6.05 p. m. were dispatched to South Windham and Murphy was brought to this city and the ambulance conveyed him from the station to St. Joseph's hospital. Murphy said that he had been in five wrecks and that he had railroaded it for fifteen years. He came from northern New York down this way in April and has been on the Central Vermont road hereabouts ever since. Having a wife and child in New London.

It was reported at the hospital that Murphy was resting comfortably as he would expect and that unless internal injuries should complicate matters he would recover. Murphy did not want to go to the hospital but wanted to be taken to his home in New London. He said that he had not had a doctor before in seven years. His car was loaded with the immense stone rolled forward another yard. Murphy would have been pinned fast beneath and probably killed almost instantly.

It is extremely doubtful if the wreck is cleared away sufficiently to get trains over the road. A stretch of about five hundred feet of iron and ties will have to be relaid after the cars are righted. The boat train was sent to New London via worst railroad wreck that has occurred in the vicinity of South Windham in many years.

According to the number of votes that each receives at the polls. Others hold that the title of the office should be followed for the number of years for which the candidate is to be elected and that the several candidates should be nominated in their respective caucuses for the special term intended.

The present law provides that ballots contain only the names of the candidates, the name of the office to be voted for and the name of the political party issuing the same. In the absence of any provision in the new law relative to the action of assessors it has become a serious problem how their names should appear upon the ticket.

Probate Court Dismisses Sullivan's Petition.
A hearing was held in the probate court before Judge James P. Shea Friday morning upon the petition of Thomas Sullivan, requesting the court to order the administrator upon the estate of Johann Sullivan, deceased, to file his final administration account in said estate, on the ground that more than one year had elapsed since the appointment of said administrator. Mr. Sullivan was represented by his attorney, P. J. Danahy.

The claimant of the estate, the respondent demurred on the ground that said estate had been declared insolvent and that the petitioner, who had been declared insolvent, had no interest in its settlement and that creditors only could legally demand a final account and upon the further grounds that the commission appointed upon the estate to whom claims against the estate had been presented and that the commission had not as yet returned a list of said claims thus presented and allowed or rejected by them and that the respondent had not been notified of said report by the court that the administrator could not render an account of the claims against the estate.

The court sustained the demurrer, and dismissed the petition. The respondent was represented by Attorney T. J. Kelley.

Jewett City Coming with Fast Team.
The rain of yesterday materially added to the great interest that is being evinced in connection with the baseball game that is to be played on Windham field this afternoon at three o'clock. Not in years has that crowd of modern fans been taken such a grip upon the local public as it did Friday.

It is not known just what lineup Manager McBroome will trot out against the Thresh City crowd, but the public can be assured that he will bring out his best material. A big bunch of rooters from the thriving inland mill village is expected to accompany the champions of the Eastern Connecticut league to this city today.

Attorney Samuel B. Harvey was in Putnam attending superior court Friday morning.

Lawrence Merritt left Friday morning for New York to take in the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

Orrin Bugbee, a salesman from the middle west, who is visiting friends in town for the week end.

Miss Ethel Riedorf and her cousins, the Misses Boston left Friday to visit relatives in Shimsbury. They will go from there to New York and witness some of the features of the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

Mrs. Sarah Cunningham has sold to Ellen Kosiska of Worcester, Mass., a tract of land on Elm street, near Chapman street. A dwelling is to be built on the tract.

Mrs. Albert C. Spellman of Lewiston avenue is in Colchester attending the Orange fair.

Mrs. Mary A. Beard, who has been visiting her son, Rev. William S. Beard, returned to her home in New York Friday morning.

Selections Puzled About New Law—Also Question as to Selection's Term of Office.
The selectmen and the officers of the surrounding towns are anxious concerning the proper construction of the law relative to the election of assessors passed by the late general assembly. The public acts for 1909 has not been passed yet and there is much confusion as to what the law really means.

In a general way it is understood that a minority representation in the board of selectmen has been eliminated and that the three candidates receiving the greatest number of votes should be declared elected and further that said candidates should be elected for the term of one, two and three years respectively.

It is further understood that the new law does not provide a method for placing the names of candidates for the several terms of office on the party ticket. Some hold that the candidates should be elected for one, two and three years, respectively, according to the number of votes that each receives at the polls. Others hold that the title of the office should be followed for the number of years for which the candidate is to be elected and that the several candidates should be nominated in their respective caucuses for the special term intended.

The present law provides that ballots contain only the names of the candidates, the name of the office to be voted for and the name of the political party issuing the same. In the absence of any provision in the new law relative to the action of assessors it has become a serious problem how their names should appear upon the ticket.

Prosperous Year in Brooklyn.
The annual reports of the town of Brooklyn have been prepared and are ready for distribution. The figures of the treasurer's report show that during the past year the debt of the town has been reduced $123.25. The report is prepared and issued in book form and contains the statements of the town's condition as compiled by the selectmen, treasurer, school visitor and health officer.

A statement of the financial condition of the town as far as can be ascertained is as follows: Liabilities, bonds issued to fund debt, $20,200; accrued interest on above bonds, $156.87; notes of the Brooklyn Savings Bank, $3,725.00; assets, deposits in savings banks, sinking fund, $2,602.08; estimated return from the state for 1909, $560.00; estimated return from the state transportation, $233.38; cash on hand, Sept. 6, $50.97; apparent indebtedness of the town as far as known, $23,389.35.

The report of the tax collector shows that the total amount of the grand list of the town for 1909 is $158,499.90. J. M. Besette Collected $14,162.96.

The rate of taxation for the year was 13 mills on the dollar. On this basis the total amount liable to be realized on the list was $15,412.58. The amount actually collected was $14,162.96, leaving a balance of $1,249.62 under the statutes of the state from the grand list total. Including the poll and abatement taxes the total amount of taxes to be collected was $14,242.58. Less the errors in the list and the abatement taxes, the net amount to be collected was $14,242.58. This is a remarkable showing and has few if any equals in the towns of the state.

Liberal with School.
According to the report of the treasurer of the school committee, Brooklyn paid $5,037.46 for educational purposes last year. Teachers' salaries amounted to $2,184.50. Transportation of students was the next largest item of school expense and totaled $522.75. Janitors cost $302.25 and repairs $144.11. The total cost of the school amounted to $2,834.24. The receipts of the committee from the town were $4,900 and from other sources $87.53. In connection with these receipts the committee also show the cost of sending students from the town to high schools and to the state normal school. The total cost of the school for 1909 was $2,834.24. The estimated return from the state on these two accounts is $560.00. The total cost of the school for 1909 was $2,834.24. The estimated return from the state on these two accounts is $560.00. The total cost of the school for 1909 was $2,834.24. The estimated return from the state on these two accounts is $560.00.

Summary.
A summary of the general expense account of the town indicates that the following amounts were paid during the past twelve months for various purposes: Notes and interest, $1,726.23; salaries of town officers, $1,249.62; highways, $3,343.38; schools (net cost), $4,900.24; aid to insane poor, $470.85; commutation taxes, $252.

NORWICH DISTRICT.
Ministerial Association to Meet in Danielson M. E. Church.
On Oct. 11 and 12 the Norwich District Ministerial Association is to hold its autumn meeting in the Methodist church in Danielson. An excellent program has been arranged and all of the ministers of the district are expected to be present. The McWalters quartette is to again assist at the services.

Welcome Rain.
Swelling streams are making glad the hearts of the manufacturers of the Quinque valley this morning for the downpour of Friday was so heavy that a decided rise in both rivers has been caused. The water in the Quinque river has been so low as to handicap all the mills along their banks and, as a consequence departments of some of the mills have been closed. The heavy rain of Friday will probably reduce the working hours and give the employees an unexpected vacation. The rainfall of Friday up to six o'clock was in excess of one inch.

OBITUARY.
Mary Jane Buck.
The body of Mary Jane Buck, 75, who died in Worcester, is to be brought to Danielson for burial in Westfield cemetery. Sunday afternoon, October 24, the body of the late Mrs. Buck was taken from the town of Killingly and formerly lived in Dayville. She was a descendant of the Danielson family and her husband, John Buck, was a native of the town of Killingly.

COLCHESTER.
Rain Compels Fair Postponement—Church News—Funeral of Mrs. Michael T. O'Connell.
Miss Florence Carver, clerk in the postoffice, leaves today (Saturday) for a few days visit with friends in Norwich.

Arthur D. Remington of Westerly, R. I., who is visiting here, Rev. D. Remington, on Linwood avenue. Mr. Remington is a telegraph operator in the employ of the Consolidated railroad and has been with the company for twenty years.

Delegates to Baptist Convention.
At the Colchester Baptist church on Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. B. Remington, called the meeting to order. The purpose for which we are called, "The purpose for which we are called," was the subject of the service. The subject will be "Christ the Foundation." At the evening service the subject of the church and the pastor and deacon Jonathan Allen were elected delegates to the convention.

Temperance Rally.
Hon. Hadiah Hull of New London will give a temperance address in Town hall next Wednesday evening at a temperance rally.

Mrs. Simon Waldo is going to spend the winter with Rev. and Mrs. E. Waldo at Palm Beach, Fla.

Irving Lyon of Putnam is to spend a vacation of two weeks with relatives at New Rochelle, N. Y.
